

Update on 2018 funding applications for Vietnam veteran research

On 16 August 2018 the Veterans' Health Advisory Panel (the Panel) sought applications from New Zealand-based researchers interested in undertaking research projects or a programme relating to the inter-generational health impacts of service in Viet Nam for New Zealand veterans.

A Stage 1 (expression of interest) research pack and application form was provided for any interested parties to submit a proposal.

The pack included information on:

- the type of research the Panel is seeking
- the funding available
- the two-stage application process
- the Panel, and its role in funding research
- the Panel's Guiding Principles for Investment
- veterans, and the support provided by Veterans' Affairs
- contact details for the Panel, and where to send proposals.

The initial deadline for Stage 1 proposals closed on 11 October 2018. On 26 October 2018 the Panel met to consider those proposals, and has now invited selected applicants to progress and submit a Stage 2 proposal.

Stage 2 applicants have been provided with a further application pack and form, which is to be received by noon on 25 January 2019.
