

What we fund

Veterans' Affairs administers funding agreements with key partners to strengthen and extend the services available for veterans.

Ranfurlly Veterans' Trust

$37,000 in the 2022-2023 financial year.

This grant funding has been made available to focus on the wellbeing of veterans and whānau, connecting them with services and support available from a variety of agencies and organisations with local communities.

This included the planning of veterans' forums in Ōtautahi-Christchurch, Tāmaki Makaurau-Auckland and Manawatu-Palmerston North and an evaluation report at the conclusion of each event.

Rannerdale Trust

$55,000 in the 2018-2019 financial year.

This funding has been made available to improve awareness and access by Vietnam veterans in Christchurch to the medical assessments they are entitled to as part of the Memorandum of Understanding. This includes planning and running a health expo for this group and their families, and participating in evaluation of the approach.

A report will be published when the project is completed.

Medical research funding

The income from the Veterans' Medical Research Trust Fund is allocated by the independent Veterans' Health Advisory Panel as research grants and awards.
